Announcement

We wish to announce that after March 1st, we will be located in the plant formerly occupied by the Swager Ice Cream Co., Hewes street, opposite the Fire Department. Owing to the tremendous growth of our business we were compelled to get into larger quarters to be able to take care of our ever growing business. We have taken over the Cold Storage Plant and Refrigerating System of the Swager Ice Cream Co., and will now be in a position to furnish our customers with the best Milk, Cream, Butter and Buttermilk in the city. We would be glad to have you call and see our plant, which when completed, will be the best and most sanitary in the city, as well as have your order for Milk, Cream, Butter and Buttermilk, which we assure you will be the best you ever tried, as we are bottling milk from such herds as Gore Brothers' thoroughbred Jerseys and J. D. Bassell & Son's all thoroughbred Jerseys. Call in or phone us now.

Sketches of Little OLD NEW YORK

Telegram Bureau: Rooms 121-125 Hotel Majestic, West Seventy-second Street.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Silvers should have been immortal. It was not within the proper rights of Frank Oakley to slay him. Silvers was for years the clown with the grotesque feet who made millions laugh. In private life he was Frank Oakley and he deserved a quiet, happy old age with children gathered about him.

Silvers's pay used to run into four figures, but evil days came upon him. His wife had long since left him and his little girl was in the care of others. He was spurned and betrayed by a wayward girl whom he had befriended and who robbed him of valuable jewels.

So he turned on the gas in his room in a cheap theatrical boarding house. It was his last performance. It is not well to lift the mine's mask of comedy. Too often it hides a countenance deep lined with woe. The laughter the clown inspires calls no echo from his heart.

To those who used to watch Silvers play baseball with himself on the tumb, go to bat and row with the umpire and stumble over his ridiculous feet, it is hard to think of him as a suicide. But those who know him say that without his makeup he was a blinking, solemn, low speaking young man, with an extremely sensitive mouth, and a diffident retiring manner.

William Loeb, Jr., sometimes surveyor of the port, joined a Fifth avenue club, where a kind of decorous hauteur is affected by all the habitués. Coming down from the billiard room, an up-going gentleman stepped on the Loeb corns and apologized.

"Don't mention it," smiled Mr. Loeb. "You're the first member that has spoken to me since I joined."

Following the precedent established by a bride in Cincinnati, a New York girl has left her husband because he was "too kind and gentle." There are many who believe that she must be a militant, not to say bellicose, suffragette. "Soc et tuum" as Horace so deftly puts it in the Odes.

By accident the other day, Edward Dunn, the publicity shark, was served with meat at luncheon, and he returned to his office to give vent to a poem, which is now being circulated among peaceable and innocent editors of the community. Herewith is the criminal predilection:

Newspapering is a routine game.
I like it.
The hours are long, the pay is lame
I like it.
But when stories break and the gore is red,
When the city editor to me has said
"Your stuff is worth a three line head."
I like it.

When Zoe Beckley was stenogging in a Wall street office merrily clicking out a stipend of $20 each and every week on her typewriter, she used to walk up Park Row to hear the roar of the presses. She had long before been bitten by the newspaper microbe and itched to write.

Finally the managing editor decided to give her a trial. He told her afterward that one reason for hiring her was because her shirtwaist and skirt met in the back—an accomplishment few of the "sob sisters" achieve.

At the end of the first week, she received a salary of $30. And the next week the managing editor left the paper. Now she wonders if there was any hidden meaning between the big

Physician's Prescription For Rheumatism

Business and professional men of large means who have taken expensive baths at famous resorts and have spent money lavishly to rid themselves of the tormenting agony of rheumatism have turned to Rheuma and got well.

When Rheuma goes in, poisonous secretions go out. No opiates or narcotics are used. Rheuma drives out the cause of rheumatism and speedily brings comfort and health, and most druggists will admit it.

Two bottles of Rheuma will cost you a dollar at Wells-Haymaker Co., or any druggist, and if this purchase does not bring you the freedom from pain and misery you expected, your money is waiting for you.—Advertisement.

SUMMONS

State of West Virginia.
To the Sheriff of Harrison County, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon Carson L. Fultz, to appear before the Judge of our Circuit Court of Harrison County at the Clerk's office of our said Court, at rules to be held therein for said Court, on the first Monday in April next, to answer a bill in Chancery exhibited against him in our said Court by Carrie Scott Fultz, and have then there this writ.

Witness, I, Wade Coffman, Clerk of our said Court, at the Court House of the said county, this 6th day of March, 1916, and in the 53rd year of the State.
I, WADE COFFMAN, Clerk, Order of Publication.

State of West Virginia.
County of Harrison, to-wit:
At rules held in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Harrison County, West Virginia, on the 6th day of March, 1916, the following order was made and entered:
Carrie Scott Fultz
VS.
Carson L. Fultz.

The object of the above styled chancery cause is that the plaintiff, Carrie Scott Fultz, may obtain from the said defendant, Carson L. Fultz, an absolute divorce from the bonds of matrimony now existing between them.
And it appearing from an affidavit filed in said cause that the said defendant, Carson L. Fultz, is a non-resident of the State of West Virginia, it is ordered that he do appear here within one month after the date of this publication of this order and do what is necessary to protect his interest herein.

I, WADE COFFMAN, Clerk, F. O. SUTTON, Counsel.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.
